BEAUTIFUL RECEPTION

To U. D. C. Delegates at Lexington—Mrs. Lucien Maltby One of the State Officers Who Was Present.

(Lexington Herald)
The Lexington Chapter U. D. C., entertained last evening with a beautiful reception at the home of Mrs. Christopher D. Chenault in honor of the delegates here to the U. D. C. Convention. It was a charming assembly of the Daughters and Veterans from over the State and about two hundred enjoyed the hours. The lovely colonial home was decorated in the Confederate colors, red and white, with banners, flags and quantities of red and white roses everywhere. The table covered with lace pieces had as its centerpiece a gold basket filled with the roses and tied with tulle. In candelabra were red and white shaded candles and the confections were also in the colors. Ice, cakes, minis and almonds were served and during the delightful evening there were impromptu talks which were much enjoyed. Receiving were Mrs. Ben Hardin Helm, mother of the Confederacy; Mrs. Frank Atkins, president of the Lexington Chapter and also second vice president of the State, and Mrs. Chenault, hostess of the evening. Standing with them were the State officers, President, Mrs. Polk Prince, of Guthrie; vice president, Mrs. Horace Luten, of Fulton; third vice president, Mrs. Lucien Maltby, of Maysville; recording secretary, Mrs. James L. Dunston, of Mayfield; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. E. Gruby, of Guthrie; treasurer, Mrs. James B. Camp, of Louisville; historian, Mrs. G. L. Randle, of Hickman; custodian of crosses, Mrs. George Spillman, of Danville; national historian, Miss Hutterford, of Georgia. Assisting were members of the Lexington Chapter.

Mrs. William Bateman entertained last evening before the reception with a beautiful dinner at her home in honor of the State officers and distinguished guests here for the convention. The decorations were in the Confederate colors used in exquisite taste and a delicious course dinner was served.

NARROW ESCAPE

Messrs. R. M. Lindsay and Hal Curran and Fire Chief Newell had a rather narrow escape yesterday from probably serious injury. The gentlemen were taking a ride in Mr. Curran's machine and were on the Lexington pike beyond Mr. W. W. Baldwin's farm. One of the rear tires became punctured, causing the machine to skid and head for the side of the road where there is an embankment several feet in height. Fortunately the machine struck a tree and though the occupants of the car were considerably jarred up they were not injured. If the car had not hit the tree and had gone over the embankment the gentlemen would probably have been injured.

A new oak floor is being laid on the walk on the south side of the L. & N. bridge over Limestone creek, which will be appreciated by the many pedestrians using that thoroughfare.

D. SAM WHITE

TAKE IT FROM DANIELS

"Industrial preparedness is not a promise. It is an accomplishment. The naval advisory board has secured this preparedness. Our Republican friends are now making speeches for it after the Democrats have actually secured it."—Secretary Daniels, at Oakland, Me.

This is the same Daniels that tells us we have an adequate navy. The naval consulting board through its Industrial Preparedness Committee has made a remarkable census of industries.

But it is only a census. Without belittling it, it is folly to call it more. It is a necessary piece of research preliminary to a really constructive policy for mobilizing the industries of this country for war or for peace.

It is not "industrial preparedness." As well say that a harbor is defended because we know the number of guns in it—no matter whether the number is great or small!

Even in getting the census the Industrial Preparedness Committee has had difficulty in getting from all employers the necessary co-operation, if reports are to be trusted. This country has a good way to go to attain that national outlook, that co-operative point of view, which is the root of industrial as of any other kind of preparedness.

Industrial preparedness is the great task of the next decade. It will not be accomplished by a paper catalogue—though we shall use the catalogue. It will not be accomplished by an administration that has never understood either business or industry. Nor by an administration that defines preparedness as Daniels defines it.

And the thousands of engineers throughout the country who in non-partisan interest in national preparedness, not in this administration, have given their time and energy to this census will be the first to resent the Daniels assumption that the work has been done.

It is not begun. It cannot afford the costly blunders of theories easily satisfied with paper plans—as with paper navies.

WILSON'S WORD FOR IT—OR THE RECORDS?

Is President Wilson trying to deceive the voters? Or is his single-track mind unable to differentiate between what constitutes war and what casualties among the sailors and marines engaged in fighting was 84, of whom 16 were killed and 68 wounded. They called it war then.

Under Wilson, who says he has kept the country at peace, the casualties among the soldiers and sailors engaged in fighting in Mexico, Santo Domingo and Hayti were 107. At Vera Cruz 19 sailors and marines were killed and 90 were wounded. In the Haytian campaign four marines were killed, and in the Santo Domingo campaign four marines, including one officer, were killed.

This is how President Wilson has kept the country out of war. More sailors and marines killed in fighting since he has been President than were killed during the whole Spanish-American War! He can't fool the people when the records of the Navy Department are available.

WHO "KEPT US OUT OF WAR?"

"It is not the President who has kept us out of war with Germany. It is the Kaiser. Mr. Wilson's notes have been true enough to make for war over and over again, but Germany has averted conflict at each psychological moment out of consideration of her own welfare, not as a consequence of any of the many things the President has written. And she has done it in her own sweet way at her own chosen time. Personally I do not believe that we have been in danger of war at any stage. Nobody could afford to drag us in and nobody has done so. That is all there is of it. If we had convinced all warring powers at the outset that we really meant to maintain our rights as a neutral, we would have obtained them beyond the shadow of a doubt. But our shillyshallying with Mexico had indicated all too plainly that they could play fast and loose with us with impunity. And they have done it—both sides."—Colonel George Harvey in the North American Review.

A TRIBUNE OF THE PEOPLE?

"There are many mysteries connected with Woodrow Wilson, but the greatest mystery of them all is the transformation which came over the man the day he became President and was no longer Governor. When he closed the door of his office in Trenton, he locked and left within Woodrow Wilson the accessible tribune of the people, and from that day he became Woodrow Wilson the least accessible and most secluded of all our Presidents. He no longer worked in any degree in the open; he sought counsel of fewer and fewer; his door no longer stood ajar; even his cabinet knew him not for days and weeks at a time, becoming a mere chorus of reticence."—Oswald Garrison Villard, Editor New York Evening Post, in North American Review.

MR. TUMULTY TURNS DOWN A "GINK" FROM MEXICO

"When I came up to Washington in July, 1913, it was following letters and cablegrams to Mr. Wilson dating back as far as February, three weeks before his inauguration, and I had every reason to expect him to be glad of the opportunity of receiving the information that I was bringing him. Mr. Tumulty informed me that 'the President could not see every gink from Mexico,' adding, 'I suppose you are another fellow who has lost a cow.' I was informed that I could not see the President until after I had seen the Secretary of State."—Sidney Austin Witherbee, a life-long resident of Mexico, in 'The Forum'.

Among the measures which President Wilson cited as a fulfillment of platform pledges was the ship purchase bill. He should read the party pledge, which was: to foster the development of a merchant marine "but without imposing additional burdens upon the people." But perhaps President Wilson thinks that in view of all the other large Democratic appropriations the American people will not consider that $50,000,000 appropriation a burden.

You don't have to coax the children to eat plenty of N. B. C. Graham Crackers. These are not only rich in the nourishment that builds bone and muscle, but their tempting taste makes the little appetites hungry for more.

N. B. C. Graham Crackers added an individuality and nut-like flavor that other graham crackers lacked. This makes them an almost universally popular article of everyday diet.

CHICAGO LETTER

Chicago, Ill., September 19.—The voters in Illinois in the primary election last Wednesday added their state to the rapidly growing list of those which have shown by actual voting a complete renunciation of the Republican and Progressive forces. The vote for Republican candidates, both in Chicago and down state, was by far the most impressive feature of the election.

In the City of Chicago the Republican vote was practically what it was before the 1912 break in the party ranks, while the total Democratic vote fell off nearly 40,000. The 1912 Democratic total vote was 118,853 while that of last Wednesday was 119,422. The down state vote made a similar showing.

The totals were so impressively favorable to the Republican cause this year that even the Chicago Examiner, a Democratic paper and champion of Gov. Dunne's re-nomination, on the Democratic ticket, remarked:

"Political statisticians hold the figures to indicate that the progressives again are sitting in the game with the Republicans."

Col. Frank O. Lowden, the Republican nominee for governor, won the nomination in such emphatic fashion that his opponents in the primary were among the very first to send him congratulations and assure him of their warm support in the campaign for election. Illinois Republicans never were in better shape than now for a clean cut campaign for election. Illinois Republicans never were in better shape than now for a clean cut campaign for the state and national tickets. Not a vestige of factional difference is left to mar the campaign.

On the other hand, the Democrats had an eleven-hour effort made to defeat the re-nomination of Gov. Dunne, a fight that has left considerable bitterness in the state ranks of the party. As a result it is being predicted in political circles through the state that Illinois will return a Republican plurality for the national and state tickets in November of 200,000. The loss of voting strength both in Chicago and down state is keenly felt in Democratic ranks and the party leaders are trying to figure out ways and means explaining away the shrunken vote.

With all the prestige of the governorship of the state at his back, and a contest for the nomination on his hands close enough to warrant calls for help to all quarters of the state, Governor Dunne polled 75,000 less votes than did Frank O. Lowden, successful contestant for the Republican nomination. Dunne's vote, practically complete, was 129,624, while Lowden's was 206,791.

Hull, who ran a poor second to Low-den for the Republican nomination, gathered within 20,000 of Governor Dunne's total. Lowden's majority over Col. F. L. Smith, third in the race for the governorship, was more than Governor Dunne's total vote in the Democratic column. Col. Lowden beat Col. Smith by 134,240.

In grand total the Democrats ran 180,000 votes behind the Republicans. Lowden, Hull and Smith totaled 388,141, while Dunne, Brinton and Traynor pulled in only 208,472.

The Chicago Tribune, Independent Republican, reported in its issue of the 15th that:

"A disturbing aspect of the down-state returns to both the Dunne and Wilson forces was the comparatively small total Democratic vote that registered at the polls, particularly throughout 'Egypt,' though practically the entire southern half of the state was somewhat indifferent."

In Edgar county, with ten precincts missing, only 16 Democratic votes were cast, of which Governor Dunne polled 2. In Pope county the Democrats polled 24 votes. The Republican totals in both these counties were huge.

HUSBAND RESCUED
DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caton, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

ACQUAINTANCE HOUR

Feature of State Sunday School Convention.

All over Kentucky there are men and women who are doing fine things in their own Sunday Schools, some are pastors, some are superintendents and some are teachers. Then there are a lot of people who serve as county officers, giving very much of their time and energy to helping all the schools in their counties to do better work and get more people into their schools. Many of these have never met the workers outside of their own counties. There will be an opportunity at the State Convention for these to get together, learn each other's names, tell some of the successes they have won, and learn how to solve some of the problems they have met. One of the great blessings that comes from a large convention is the making of new friendships.

American canned salmon is favorably known throughout the entire world. The exports of it amount to $7,000,000 a year.

IS A PROMINENT EDUCATOR

President R. H. Crossfield, Enthusiastic Sunday-School Worker, is on Convention Program.

There are some people who are able to do many things, and do them all well. Dr. Crossfield was for many years a successful pastor, and organized in his church a fine Adult Bible Class. Later he was called to the presidency of a great university, and made such a success of that there was added the presidency of a Bible college for the training of ministers. In whatever position he is placed he is always ready to give freely of his gifts to helping in any movement that is trying to make the world better. It is a difficult matter for such a man to so adjust his time that he can accept the invitations that come to him. It is a great pleasure to the Sunday-school workers of the state that Dr. Crossfield can take part in the annual Sunday-school convention to be held at Somerset, October 5-8.

Carelessly thrown away cigar and cigarette stubs are blamed for 1,306 fires in New York City last year.

SOUTH SHOULD BUILD STANDARD ROADS

"If there ever was a time when the need and the opportunity for improving Virginia's roads marched together, that time is now." This declaration by Richmond Times-Dispatch applies as well to other Southern states. It also suggests the way in which the South's road improvement program should be attacked.

Just as cities in the West profited by the mistakes of the older cities in the East, and built broader streets looking to future as well as immediate traffic requirements, so the South should profit by the mistakes of the thickly populated Northern states and adopt a standard type of road. This does not mean wider and more costly roads, as in the case of streets, but roads of a single standard type as opposed to the many and unsatisfactory types found throughout the North.

Highway Engineers are unanimously agreed that successful road building must include a stable foundation and a wearing surface suited to all types of traffic and involving low maintenance charges. There are just two types of roads within the resources of prosperous communities which can be so combined as to meet these requirements and at a cost not exceeding that paid for these highways when built as separate or distinct types. They are the asphalt macadam road and the concrete road, which are cheaper, stronger and more satisfactory when properly combined in the form of a concrete foundation and a natural asphalt macadam wearing surface.

Where a road is of the asphalt macadam type, any defect in the foundation causes trouble. When roads are built of concrete throughout, any neglect or carelessness in workmanship is fatal. Saturation and subsequent drying of slabs means expansion and contraction involving upheaval and disintegration.

But when concrete is used as a foundation, the asphalt macadam wearing surface acts as a water-shedding material keeping conditions more constant both as to moisture and temperature changes. The unyielding concrete in turn keeps the asphalt macadam wearing surface from breaking down. Furthermore, the latter imparts to the road the resiliency or elasticity required for both horse and motor traffic.

This type of road has been thoroughly tested on city streets, suburban highways, park drives and country roads. Costs have ranged between $11,500 to $13,500 per mile for roads 16 feet in width. Philadelphia built sections of her great Northeast Boulevard in this way at lower cost than some states have paid for water-bound macadam. The taxpayers of Monroe county, Michigan, are building 40 miles of the type, the concrete foundation including 6-inch concrete curbs between which will be placed a 2-inch wearing surface of natural asphalt macadam.

Roads of this type running from city to city and state to state would profit the South far beyond anything she can hope to achieve by building roads in the customary hit-or-miss fashion.

"AMERICAN" ISSUES DEFINED BY HUGHES

Milwaukee, Wis., September 20.—Charles E. Hughes, before a cheering audience that filled the big auditorium here tonight, outlined his attitude toward the protection of American rights as follows:

"I propose that we shall protect and enforce American rights on land and sea without fear and unflinchingly with respect to American lives, American property and American commerce. We have no unstated policy, no secret understanding, no intrigues. We stand four-squared to the world, representing the United States and its interests and its interests alone, first, last and all the time."

Mr. Hughes' reference to American rights was contained in a speech in which he made reply one by one, to what he termed Democratic claims for having aided business and outlined the Republican program. In so doing, he dealt deeply with subjects discussed in President Wilson's speech of acceptance. The shipping bill was characterized as a "menace, the sooner removed the better."

The Underwood tariff he called a measure "that must be undone if we are to have a pure basis of prosperity in this country." He reiterated that the anti-trust law instead of being clarified by definition had been made "more uncertain."

BRITISH OFFER APOLOGY FOR BOARDING U. S. BOAT

Washington, September 20.—Great Britain today formally expressed to the United States regret for the action of a British destroyer in holding up and examining the Philippine steamer Cebu within the territorial waters of the Philippines. Because of a heavy fog, it was explained, the destroyer's commander did not know the vessel was so near shore.

In the absence of Ambassador Spring-Rice, Colville Barclay, counselor of the British embassy, called at the State Department at the request of Foreign Secretary Grey and presented the explanation and expression of regret. Department officials said later the incident was regarded as closed.

The Cebu was boarded and examined a mile and a half off the island of Cebu recently, the boarding party apparently being in search of a German who was not found. Governor General Harrison, of the Philippines, reported the case, denouncing the action as a violation of American neutrality and a protest immediately was made to London.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

In the column, Thirty Years Ago in the Ripley Bee yesterday the following item was found:

The Maysville Band passed down Saturday on the steamer Benton McMillin to attend the triumphal convocation of the Knights Templar at St. Louis. D. W. Shield and J. C. Leggett of this place are attending the convocation.

We hope that thirty years hence the papers will be writing about the present Maysville Band. Although they have not made any such trips as going to St. Louis they travel quite a bit and produce good music wherever they go.

W. P. ROSS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Friday last as Will P. Ross, of Carleton, who travels by auto for M. C. Russell & Co., was on his way home in going around a short curve in the pike about the top of the Blue Lick hill he met a truck coming up the hill in the middle of the road. To avoid a collision he ran his car over on the side of the road and the car skidded over the bank, throwing him out and inflicting severe bruises but fortunately breaking no bones. The machine was only slightly damaged.—Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.

SOME PICTURE

Everyone should notice the line art picture on display today in front of the Pastime Theater. It represents "Diana, the Huntress," the beautiful Greek Myth, which is the special feature at the Pastime today, afternoon and night. The picture is interpreted by Barness Dewitz, Paul Swan and a notable cast including the classic dancers.

GAITHER FARM SOLD

When it comes to being in the front rank with good land, Mason county is there with the dirt. Yesterday the Gaither farm that has been advertised as extensively in the Ledger, was sold to Hon. S. A. Shanklin, he paying the splendid price of $151 per acre. There were 237 acres in the farm, and it is considered worth every cent of the money.

WILL NOT GO TO FLEMINGSBURG

Mr. E. E. Luville, who was preparing to move to Flemingsburg to locate there, has reconsidered the matter and will remain in this city. Mr. Luville had accepted a position with the Western and Southern Life Insurance of that place.

OUR COLORED CITIZENS

Mr. John Jackson of Detroit, Mich. is visiting relatives here.

Miss Mary J. Williams has returned to her home in the county after spending two months with relatives in Chicago, Ill.

Miss Pearl T. Johnson returned to her home in East Fifth street after spending a few days with her aunt in the county.

Mrs. Lizzie Smith died at her home in Washington yesterday morning. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist Church. Burial will be made in the Baptist Cemetery at Washington.

The Great Home Coming and Evangelistic Jubilee of Scott M. E. Church of this city is additional evidence of the ability of our colored citizens to conduct exercises of a high order. The meeting began in the beautiful Beech Wood Park on Sunday, September 10th. After that date, and until the following Sunday, September 17th, the meetings were held in their beautiful church on East Fourth street. Rev. E. W. S. Hammond, the pastor, was assisted during the week by Revs. Small and Walker of Flemingsburg. Rev. Harris of Washington and Rev. Lee of Mayslick, local brethren, Revs. McFarland and Morton rendered very efficient service. Miss Ethel Fleming of Springfield, Ohio, graduate of Antioch College and Dayton Conservatory of Music, drew an appreciative crowd of our leading citizens on Thursday night to a Musical Recital never surpassed and but seldom equaled here. One of the very helpful features of the meeting was the appreciation shown by the real leaders in social and moral reforms who attended and expressed themselves as highly pleased with the exercises. Professor Humphrey with several teachers of the colored schools and other prominent citizens were present and took part in the exercises to the great delight of the promoters of the entertainment. The singing of the superb and well trained choir under the leadership of Mrs. A. O. Hammond was the subject of many complimentary words. Sunday brought large delegations from Mayslick, North Fork, Flemingsburg, Aberdeen, Manchester, Washington and other adjoining towns. The order was excellent and the testimonials of the President, officials and employees of the Maysville City Railway together with those of our white citizens was a splendid compliment to the pastor and members of the entertaining church.

The services by Revs. Scott of the local Baptist Church, Lee of the Mayslick and North Fork churches and McFarland of Aberdeen were helpful, eloquent and strong.

The pastor, officiating and membership of Scott Church desire to thank the friends, both white and colored, who by their presence and attendance and good words helped to make the occasion profitable as well as pleasurable.
